Doesn't it seem that Christian ladies, especially those of the young adult age, have serious decisions to make as they strive to compete in today's world and yet remain faithful to God's Word? Perhaps, though, the question should be, Should the Christian lady compete with society's way? Are we supposed to compromise our salvation in order to fit in? Who should we identify with? Judy/ Judith is a story that shows how easy it is for a lady to lose sight of herself as a Christian, and how to use scripture to get back to the most important thing-our relationship with our Lord and savior, Jesus Christ. Once that happens, everything else falls back into place, doesn't it? But seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. - Matthew 6:33.About the author: Barbara Newkirk-Holmes is a missionary at Christ Outreach Ministries incorporated COGIC, in Chicago, Illinois. She has written other God-inspired booklets for her church, including You Don't Have To: The Gospel About Bondage, Live the Word, and Lean For Life. She continues to give glory to God and thanks to her family members, her spiritual mother, Dorothy Westbrook, Pastor Ollie Turner, and her spiritual family at Christ Outreach Ministries for their love, prayers and support.
