He told me, It was old Benamuckee, that lived beyond all. He could describe nothing of this great person, but that he was very old, much older, he said, than the sea or the land, than the moon or the stars. I asked him then, if this old person had made all things, why did not all things worship him? He looked very grave, and, with a perfect look of innocence, said, All things say O to him. I asked him, if the people wha die in his country went away anywhere? He said, Yes, they all went to Benamuckee. Then I asked him whether those they eat up went thither tooHe said, Yes. From these things, I began to instruct him in the knowledge of the true God. I told him that the great Maker of...
